

WHAT WILL I WEAR?

If there was a 'Mensa Club' for travel packing intelligence, Kandy would be running it. This is the woman who has distilled shopping and wardrobe development into an art form. Armed with her own formula for travel packing and an innate sense of style, Kandy can put together a perfect suitcase in a couple of hours. Incredibly generous with her fashion 'know how', Kandy has a way of sharing tips and secrets of the trade that can help anyone find their inner 'jet set' style with ease.

With more than 25 years in the fashion industry, Kandy has scooped many awards including Designer of Year, grown a fashion label nationally, and served on the board of Fashion Group International (FGI). With a degree in fashion design, a lifetime of dressing people and more importantly, a lifetime of answering the question "What Will I Wear? Anywhere, Anytime, Anyplace..."
